Research Fellowships

In 2013 the School of Taxation & Business Law at UNSW, Australia will offer up to three Research Fellowships to international academics and professionals keen to further their research in the fields of taxation, business law and related disciplines. The maximum value of each fellowship is AUD$7,500. The School may decide to only award two fellowships in any given year.

Fellowship duties
Research fellows normally spend four weeks working at the School of Taxation & Business Law on a mutually agreed area of research. During their stay, fellows are involved in the following activities:

- Producing at least one research paper on taxation or business law, in collaboration with Taxation & Business Law academic(s), to be published in a refereed journal with due acknowledgement of the fellowship
- Conducting a Taxation & Business Law research seminar for interested members of the broader tax/business law research community
- Participating in Taxation & Business Law collegial activities during the period of the fellowship

The School of Taxation & Business Law will provide office space and computer equipment at its Kensington campus in Sydney, Australia. Fellows will be responsible for organising their own travel and accommodation arrangements. The preferred timing for successful applicants to undertake the fellowship is March–May 2013 or August–October 2013, but other times of the year may also be possible.

Selection
Selection is based on the applicant’s research proposal and on their ability to contribute to the School of Taxation & Business Law research profile. A track record in collaborating with Taxation & Business Law academics will be considered as an advantage.
