

THE UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO LAW SCHOOL seeks applications and nominations to fill tenure-track or tenured positions (entry-level or lateral). For the current hiring cycle we plan to focus on candidates with an interest and expertise in tax law or race and the law (including critical race theory).

Applicants should hold a law or equivalent advanced degree and demonstrate a commitment to excellence in scholarship and teaching. Colorado Law is an equal opportunity institution. Because the University is committed to building a broadly diverse educational environment, the search committee is especially interested in candidates who, through their research, teaching, and/or service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community. Application materials will be considered as they are received until the positions are filled. Contact by mail or air courier: Professor Mark Squillace, Chair, Faculty Appointments Committee, University of Colorado Law School, Campus Box 401, Boulder, CO, 80309-0401, or by e-mail: mark.squillace@colorado.edu.

The University of Colorado Boulder is committed to building a culturally diverse community of faculty, staff, and students dedicated to contributing to an inclusive campus environment. The University of Colorado is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment free from discrimination on the basis of race, creed, color, national origin, age, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, religion, associational preference, status as a qualified individual with a disability, or status as a protected veteran.
