Seeking Volunteers: State Tax Administration Survey

Under a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation, the Center for Taxpayer Rights has developed a questionnaire of state tax administration practices and procedures to better understand how taxpayer rights are protected under state law. The questionnaire gathers information relating to income tax (where applicable), property tax, sales tax, and any other statewide taxes. The questions involve laws related to Assessment, Appeals, Collection, and Litigation. Volunteers are asked to provide an explanation of applicable state law as well as a citation when possible. Once the information is collected, the Center will make recommendations for the adoption of practices shown to work well and will identify areas of deficiency in taxpayer protections and advocate for change where taxpayer rights are in jeopardy. The Center plans to hold a Reimagining Tax Administration workshop in the fall of 2022 to discuss the survey findings and recommendations. More information can be found here.

The Center is seeking volunteers for the following states:

- Hawaii
- Indiana
- Montana
- Nevada
- North Dakota
- Oklahoma
- Pennsylvania
- West Virginia
- Wisconsin
- Wyoming

If you would be able to complete the questionnaire for any of the states listed above (or if you know someone else who may be interested, including a research assistant), please email anna@taxpayer-rights.org.
